

EFFECTIVE CITIZEN CO-OPERATION

WHAT IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS SHOULD BE EACH BODY'S BUSINESS

Bulletin No. 18

May 18, 1914

Madame Toronto has over half a million people in her household. Her annual allowance, not including revenue producing services, is $11,800,000 yet she finds it difficult to make both ends meet. Every individual member of the household must do his or her share if the housekeeping is to be well done.

A broken curb in A's block, a pile of inflammable waste somewhere in B's district, uncollected garbage in C's neighborhood, unnecessary sidewalk obstruction in D's Ward, lack of proper fire precautions in the church or theatre E attends, exist with A's, B's, C's, D's and E's consent unless they do or say something to remedy conditions.

The city departments can't see everything. There aren't enough hours in the day. A quarter million pairs of eyes, co-operating with the city departments, should increase greatly the promptness and effectiveness of the various city services.

If you will note your suggestions on the attached cards, we shall look carefully into each item and send notice of those which seem to need immediate attention to the proper city department.

Do you co-operate with heads of city departments by notifying them of conditions which should be brought to their attention? They will welcome co-operation.

Do you ever discuss civic matters with the alderman or school trustee of your district? If not, why not?

Tear off a card and forward your suggestion to the Bureau of Municipal Research.

All communications marked "Confidential" will be treated as such.
